Keynote Speaker

Chaqueta Stuckey

This year’s keynote speaker comes all the way from South Carolina!

Chaqueta Stuckey is President of her local self-advocacy council group, Our Voices Count, Too. She is also a member of the state advocacy group, IMPACT-South Carolina. She serves on the executive board for the national board of SABE, Self Advocates Becoming Empowered. She serves on the Protection and Advocacy Minority Affairs Council. She has also been recently selected to participate in Georgetown University’s National Center for Cultural Competence Leadership Academy.

In her career, she has participated in a number of self advocacy activities. Her most recent project is participating as Co-Project Director of Our Community Standing Strong (OCSS), a national technical assistance grant to promote grassroots efforts in self advocacy. She is a graduate of Partners in Policymaking. She has participated in a number of rallies to promote self-advocacy awareness. She attends meetings to ensure the voice of self-advocates are heard. Chaqueta has presented at national and state conferences. She has been named the state of South Carolina Advocate of the Year two times for her work in the movement. She exhibits strong leadership and is known for her words and actions—she always follows up. Her leadership abilities bring out the best in all people.

Her hobbies include assisting the elderly in her community, being an active choir member, assisting with church activities, being an avid tennis, and being a track and bowling athlete with Special Olympics. She loves meeting new friends across the country and maintaining a connection.

Living With A Service Dog
Participants will hear about how a service dog can provide support for a person with a disability. Presenters will share stories of acquiring, training and living with a service dog. Presenters will also provide important information about ADA laws around service animals. Included will be the benefits and challenges of having a service dog.

Persephone Ringgenberg, Liz Sykas-Ringgenberg and Kim Brittenham

Healthy Living and The Basics of Being Centered
Want to feel better? Improve your self-confidence? Feel more relaxed? Did you say “YES”? We will help you learn new ways to take care of your body, mind, spirit, and relationships. We will show you basic methods of meditation. Becoming and staying centered is often difficult. Come experience ways of incorporating healthy living and meditation into your day to day life.

Marje Burns, Evan Cross, James Primrose, Danielle Viau and Jayne Weber

LGBTQ People with Disabilities Network
This workshop will inform people that there is a space to be supported if you are LGBTQ and have a disability. There will be a game and a chance to talk with one another while learning what it is like to be LGBTQ and have a disability.

David Frye, Kristen Wade, Danielle Rochford, Josh Quenville and Meghan Lake

What is Global Warming and What We Can Do About it?
Climate Change is a Hot Topic! We are putting more and more pollution into the air. It is causing more severe storms, wildfires, snow and cold and sea levels rising. Make no mistake, getting the earth back on track won’t be easy. People across Vermont and the country are speaking up! Come here activists from 350VT explain what steps you can take to make a difference.

Brittany Dunn, Jillian Meyer from 350VT and Nicole LeBlanc

A partnership to improve the health of Vermonters with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities
The GMSA Ally of the Year is The Developmental Services Directors

The 2015 Ally of the Year Award will be presented to all of the Vermont Developmental Services Directors for their outstanding support of Green Mountain Self-Advocates and our mission for Vermonter with developmental disabilities to educate peers to take control over their own lives, make decisions, solve problems, and speak for themselves. From their support as we celebrated our 20th anniversary in style, to their partnership on many of the projects that Green Mountain Self Advocates has worked on over the last year, we thank them for the great work they do! Their collaboration on projects such as the Direct Support Professional Recognition Week and the Peer Mentoring Project speaks volumes about the belief in Presumption Of Competence and the capabilities of all people. These projects are utterly vital to sustain a quality of life we seek for all Vermonters and we are extremely grateful for their support and celebrate what the Developmental Services Directors bring into our communities.
